

Chairman's Chat

April 2005

The Winter Series has now drawn to a close, congratulations go to Ben Jefferis on taking the Championship honours, with James Goodfield taking a well deserved second place overall in the Championship. Congratulations also go to Phillipa Noble, who takes the First Lady category. On the final round of the Series, a surprise result by Jon Smith saw him finish second overall on the day.

Ben Jefferis has also been busy on behalf of the Club, organising the first Navigational Scatter to be offered to our members for many years. This event attracted a good number of crews, who enjoyed a well organised and smoothly run event providing a good evening's entertainment. Results appear later in this magazine. Based on the success of this event, your Committee are considering providing four Navigational Scatter events during the next winter season.

The Club has also organised another Navigational Training Session which attracted five crews, all keen to learn to new, or top-up old skills. This level of interest bodes well for our next Winter Series of 12 Car Navigation events and means that a pre-booking system is going to be considered for the next series.

Corinium Run

The entries are now full for the second Corinium Efficiency Run and appear later in the magazine. This is the Club's major event of the year and the Corinium Run Committee have been working very hard to ensure that the Club will produce a well organised event. If you are able to help the Committee on Sunday 17 April, please contact me as soon as possible. If you are taking part in this event I would like to wish you an enjoyable day out in the Cotswolds.
