

Chairman's Chat

June 2006

For those of you who are observant you may be thinking that you missed the May edition of the Cirencester Car Club Newsletter, but due to the workload of organising and running the Corinium Run the key members of the Committee have taken a well earned break following the event, hence there was no production of the newsletter. We are back with the June edition and it's bigger and better.

The Corinium Run was yet again a huge success for the Club, it is now gaining a national reputation with entries being received from all over the country and editorial content being included in many classic car magazines. We were lucky on the day to have several celebrities join us, these included BBC Radio Gloucestershire Motoring Correspondent Zog Ziegler and mid-morning programme presenter John Rockley, this gained the Club a tremendous amount of publicity including a live 20 minute slot with myself being interviewed by John before the event. During the event, many interviews took place and these were played the following week, for those of you who missed these, they can be downloaded from our Club Website. I would like to take this opportunity to thank everybody involved with the Corinium Run, whether competing or organising and if you would like to take on more responsibility for this event, we now have several vacant positions on the organising team, please contact me for details.

The Club is now well into its summer programme of events which I hope you will all do your best to try and support. The Committee are currently struggling with venues as the use of Windrush Airfield is on hold until further notice. I urge everybody to help the Club source new venues, as without these we are unable to organise competitive events.
